watching everything, everywhere

you need to know
anything, anywhere

just ask!

lil'bro is the solution to know anything about isolated sites. Based on famous technologies such as GPRS, the lil'bro network enables everybody, through secure protocols, to reach sensors and actuators.

Easy to deploy, easy to configure, easy to use, the lil'bro software and hardware suite gives you the best end-user experience. The interfaces offer each user all the features needed to watch and control every type of distant sites.

The best combination of smart technologies, leading you to success.
